Not everyone is able to get to their computer or laptop every day, wether it's work or just life in general that gets in the way, but everyone always has their phone on them wether it's an Android or Iphone. If an app was made of this game, it would grow econtinentally and maybe entice people who were left to come back, since I know some of my server just didn't have the time to play as they had to be in work and travel to work and back, which meant I missed nearly 2 hours of playing time and the start of some events. I myself stopped for a bit, as when I started working it was overnight and I couldn't get to a computer, so I missed out on a lot of things, like getting an early GNW Kiba of logging and Great ninja War and also defeating the nine-tails, and it happened on more than one occasion so I thought, if I can't be up for the events, I might as well not play since I can't play with my server So I stopped playing I just returned this month and found it very difficult to get back in the fold, there's nobody on my strength to do TI and its quite frustrating to do the layers by yourself and get lower tools. The only other Naruto game I found on my Google play was Naruto Blazing Ninja who is nowhere near as good as you have here, but its easy assesable because it's an app and I started playing that same time I started playing it. Right now in time I find it nicer to play the other Naruto game than that, even if I think it's the better game. Sorry it was so long, but I strongly believe it would make the game better registered: 2017-07-24 Topics: 1 Posts: 16 On 2017-06-17 12:36:22 | Show this author Only 2# You can try this program called Puffin which is a browser that allows you to view websites in desktop mode. And I'm sure someone from the other side can see it, my friend has seen my chat once. But you'll have trouble getting free pulls because of resolution. But Puffin is the way to go if you want to play it on mobile. I know how to get free draw of mobile! you just need to subscribe and stop full screen until you have wider resolution on the browser. once you get the wider resolution, you can go left/right in the seal treasure section! works really well for me! Edit : but once you enter the wide screen, don't enter full screen because it will change it back to the small resolution, after doing free drawing, you can and re-enter the full screen!
